We help mothers and fathers of native Hawaiian keiki recognize and build on the family values and cultural strengths that contribute to their keiki's educational success.

Pūlama I Nā Keiki
(Cherish the Children)

Pūlama I Nā Keiki

Our Philosophy

Our philosophy is based on the following set of beliefs:

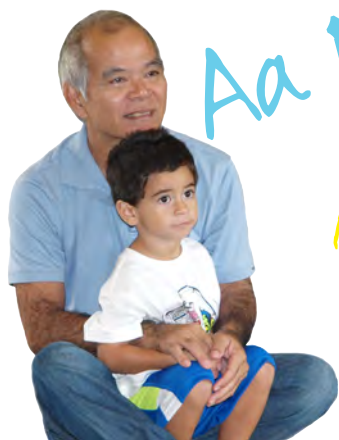

- Mothers and fathers are a keiki's first teachers and they want their children to succeed.
- Extended family members are the keiki's first experience with the concept of community.
- The home is a keiki's first classroom, and early experiences affect a keiki's educational success.

Our Program

The program offers prenatal and parent-child services including home visits, workshops, and preschool readiness groups.

Our parent educators provide:

- Culturally based information about prenatal health, childbirth, child development, and child rearing.
- Activities that help families encourage their keiki's interest in learning.
- Links to community resources.

Our Mission

To kōkua native Hawaiians who are committed to achieving their potential for themselves, their families, and their communities.

*"A'ohe pau ka 'ike i ka hālau ho'okāhi."
One can learn from many sources.*

What Participants Learn

- Learning begins in utero
- Early & frequent parent-child interaction leads to explosions of learning in the child.
- Developmental stages can be tracked and optimized.
- The best toys are often home made.
- And much, much more.

Participation Requirements

Participation in the program is for children of Hawaiian or part-Hawaiian ancestry and is free of charge. We strive to work with families as early as possible, so entry preference is given to:

- Prenatal families.
- Families expecting a first or second child.
- Families of children up to 12 months old.

Other families may be accepted if space permits.

Program Concept:

Ho'olohe - "Listening"

This is an illustration of Ho'olohe, an important communication skill.

Our baby quilt (kapa) and T-shirt activities show how all children learn through their senses and interaction with others and the world around them.
